Key note speakers

Frank De Moor knows a thing or two about parking today and has a clear view on parking (and mobility) in the future. Frank is CEO at Q-Park BV and a member of the Q-Park Student Award jury. He will present the award to the students with the best theses.

Giuliano Mingardo is specialised in parking policy and mobility management and regularly advises (local) governments and companies on these issues. He will welcome you and introduce this year's theme 'Urban Mobility & Behaviour'. Giuliano is researcher at Erasmus University Rotterdam.

Event moderator

Theo Thuis is an innovator and inspirator with a more than average interest in solutions for smart cities and smart mobility. He will guide us through the event and loves to challenge all guests to engage with the speakers, students and each other.

Q-Park Student Award

Together with Erasmus University Rotterdam, Q-Park BV is organising the 2022 Q-Park Student Award. This award aims to stimulate students at European colleges and universities to conduct research into parking and mobility.

Any bachelor or master project related to parking and/or mobility with significant added value from an educational and societal perspective will be considered for the award. Projects recently completed or in the final phase can be submitted.

Up to three projects on parking and/or mobility will be awarded a prize worth €1,500. Students will present their work during the Award Ceremony on 3 November 2022 at the Muziekijetierij in Maastricht.

Requirements

Students, either individually or in a group, can submit their

Assessment criteria

Research projects will be assessed based on their educational and societal relevance. A research project should provide new knowledge for the parking and/or mobility sector and must be distinguishable from previous research.

The jury will consist of experts from education and the parking sector.
